-16 Reading At Chadron U. S. Lowest

Highs In 50s Are Seen For Saturday

Chadron was apparently the coldest spot in the United States last night as the mercury dipped to 16 degrees below zero.

However, other parts of the state failed to register such extreme depth on the thermometer. North Platte had six below, Scottsbluff five below and Valentine two below.

Much warmer temperatures were promised by the weatherman for Saturday with a possible high of 55. But the weather bureau warned Nebraskans that Sunday would bring more coldness into the state from the Klondike.

Below Normal.

Temperatures over the next five days, according to the experimental long-range forecast, are expected to hit about three to six degrees below normal minimums of 20 in the west and 23 in the east.

Only occasional snow flurries, bringing just light precipitation Sunday and again about Tuesday, are predicted. The precipitation average will be less than one-tenth inch.

Lincoln's overnight temperatures stayed right around the eight degree mark, with the 24-hour high Thursday being 30 degrees shortly after midnight Wednesday.

In the Klondike a weather station reported the mercury standing at 57 below zero.

A chill north wind kept Lincoln's temperature down during Friday. It was expected to diminish tonight and spring afresh from the south bringing partly cloudy and warmer thermometer readings Saturday. Lows tonight are expected to be a little colder than the 15 to 20 degrees forecast for the state.

Red China Getting Oil And Steel

... Sen. O'Connor Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) said today investigation has disclosed "huge" shipments of scrap rubber, steel and oil to communist China from west coast ports and from Japan since the start of the Korean war.

In a statement summarizing the shipments, O'Connor said the full details were being laid before Secretary of Defense Marshall with a request that he "consider the possible dangers involved."

O'Connor is acting chairman of a senate commerce subcommittee inquiring into shipments of strategic materials to red China. He has accused the commerce department of failing to plug loopholes in export regulations to halt such trade.

Beal Sentence 2-5 Years In Reformatory

... Eicher Begins Term

James E. Beal, fifth of six Lincoln youths to be convicted on an assault with intent to commit rape charge, was sentenced to two-to-five years in the reformatory by District Judge J. H. Broady Friday afternoon.

The 19-year-old defendant was found guilty by a District court jury Nov. 9. The charge involved a 16-year-old Lincoln high school girl the night of last March 18. Beal did not appeal to the state Supreme court.

Judge Broady delayed commitment for ten days to give Beal time to take treatment for an ailing tooth. The request for the delay was made by L. R. Doyle, Beal's attorney. County Attorney Frederick H. Wagner also recommended the delay.

Nothing To Say.

When asked, after sentencing, if he had anything to say, the youth shook his head and answered, "Nothing."

Don L. Eicher, who was convicted last month of the same charge involving another 16-year-old girl the previous night, began serving his sentence of two-to-five years in the reformatory Friday.

In the Eicher case notice of appeal was filed in District court after the youth was sentenced, but proceedings were carried no farther.

David M. Darlington, who was convicted of a similar charge and recently lost his appeal to the Supreme court, will begin serving his sentence of three-to-five years in the reformatory on Saturday.

American Youth Must Take Lead—Japanese Educator

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, noted Japanese educator and church leader, told members of the Nebraska Youth Conference Friday morning that the youth of this country must take the lead in "setting up a kingdom of God," by combating communism, secularism and temptation.

Dr. Kagawa addressed 300 members of the conference at the NYC annual meeting in the First Methodist church. Throughout the history of the church, it has been the younger members of society who have taken the responsibility of Christian leadership, he pointed out.

Speaking earlier, Dr. Kagawa declared that the Japanese people are very satisfied with the provision of their post-war constitution which prohibits Japanese armed services. This enables expenditures for education which would normally be made for arms, he said.

Two-thirds Vote. He expressed doubt that armed forces in that country would ever be re-established. This would require a two-thirds vote of the Japanese house of commons, and national sentiment against arms would make this impossible, he asserted.

Churches in Japan are growing faster today than buildings can be built to house them, Dr. Kagawa said. One of the immediate projects there is the construction of 1,000 chapels and meeting houses in the more ruined areas, he added.

Realizing that their country was destroyed more from its inside corruption than from outside forces, the Japanese are attending churches in numbers 10 times as large as before the war, he said. Emperor Hirohito is particularly eager to have the moral basis for the new constitution on Christianity, he pointed out.

Dr. Kagawa, through his leadership of the labor party, is considered the chief enemy of communism in Japan today. Because of his opposition to the recent war, he was forced to exile himself on an island to escape the quoted as saying the Orthopedic hospital could tie in well with a proposal to make the state's medical center at Omaha.

"The principal reason now—that it could be operated more economically—is quite wrong," Dr. Orr stated.

"There is not room in the University hospital," he explained. "For more than eight or 10 orthopedic patients. To build a special hospital in Omaha now, as suggested, would cost—as Dr. Fritz Teal has pointed out—about $12,000 per bed."

"For these reasons, as well as others I do not care to discuss, it would be very unwise to push the matter of transferring this institution to Omaha or anywhere else," Dr. Orr said.

"Primary Object." "Finally," he added, "the point to be kept in mind is that good care for the patient is the primary object of the program."

The hospital should remain in Lincoln for these, among other reasons, Dr. Alcorn said:

1. There are more orthopedic surgeons in Lincoln than in Omaha.

2. Parents of patients here have told him they prefer Lincoln—it is easier to get around in and less distressing for them to come to the Orthopedic hospital than to the University hospital.

3. It would be "far-fetched" to remove the hospital which has "done commendable work" from the capital city to the extreme end of the state.

"No Saving." Most important, he "can't see any saving" in moving the hospital. "I don't think there is Jap Peace Plan Set Up By U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States has proposed to a dozen other governments a seven-point Japanese peace treaty plan. It includes a proposal that American and "perhaps other forces" assume post-treaty responsibility for Japanese security.

The state department published the heretofore secret memorandum today, after the Moscow press published an exchange between the United States and the Soviet Union on the proposed treaty.

The department also released a memorandum from Moscow which raised the question of whether the United States intends to go ahead with a Japanese treaty without Russia if the Soviets refuse to accept the American plan.

The Russians also raised a number of questions about whether the proposals for territorial and other Japanese settlements are in line with such arrangements as those worked out at Cairo in 1943 and Potsdam in 1945.

Long Battle Lull Comes To End

... Big Allied Smash Follows Rumors Of Peace

(By the Associated Press) TOKYO—A United Nations 100,000-man army launched an offensive on the entire Korean battle front today to end the war in a hurry.

The attack is moving "according to schedule," Gen. MacArthur announced tonight. It followed a long lull and unfounded peace rumors.

MacArthur made the announcement at 8 p. m. (5 a. m. CST) 12 hours after flying boldly to the northwest front to direct the all-out assault.

Elsewhere allied divisions forged ahead in a giant pincer movement.

The assault along the 80-mile northwest front was moving ahead against "stubborn but failing resistance," MacArthur said.

Gains of 8 Miles. Gains ranged up to eight miles. U. N. losses were "extraordinarily light" as the allied pushed toward mountains where an estimated 100,000 reds are entrenched.

MacArthur said new red armies had joined the defenders, but didn't amplify the statement.

Allied aircraft provided a "full strength" aerial umbrella for the advance.

The entire giant pincer movement, MacArthur said, is geared for a sustained offensive to end the war before Christmas.

"The justice of our cause," the supreme commander said, "and promise of early completion of our mission is reflected in the morale of troops and commanders alike."

Home By Christmas. MacArthur ordered the drive in the northwest toward the Yalu river border of Manchuria the day after Tokyo was flooded with peace rumors. He told his front-line commanders:

"Tell the boys when they reach the Yalu they are going home. I want to make good on my statement that they are going to eat Christmas dinner at home."

He did not elaborate. (It seemed doubtful that many American troops could be moved back to the U. S. by Christmas even if they started now.)

Later MacArthur flew over enemy lines and along the winding Yalu. Then he returned to Tokyo. He was escorted by jet fighters.

Combat troops of three allied corps jumped off in freezing weather Friday morning along an 80-mile front. The U. S. Second and 25th divisions and a Turkish brigade quickly moved up to take over a 25-mile sector in the middle of the line.

The advance—covered by allied planes—met little opposition. There were gains also on the northeast Korean front. The northwest push began from a line 45 to 60 miles south of the red border.

Sinuju In Flames. A tank-led U. S. 24th division task force drove eight miles west on the road to Sinuju, entryway for Chinese communist armies in the extreme northwest. Sinuju was in flames today, presumably from new allied war attacks.

The trip took the Far Eastern commander 60 miles behind enemy lines and over known communist fighter nests. MacArthur's plane, the "SCAP," was unarmed.

Abandoning Rail Line Again Urged

By North Western; Scribner - Oakdale Branch Is Target

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Chicago and North Western railway insisted Friday upon abandoning its 120-mile branch between Scribner and Oakdale, Neb. The company, in a statement filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, asked it to reverse a recommendation by two of its examiners last month that the abandonment authority be refused.

The examiners, although noting a drop in business on the branch, said it has a definite feeder value to the North Western system. They also said discontinuance of service between Scribner and Oakdale would seriously effect business interests in the area.

The examiners added, however, that the railroad will have to get more business if the line is to be kept in operation.

Challenges Findings.

The railroad in its reply to the examiners' report challenged their findings in numerous particulars and asserted:

"Our contention is that the record in this case clearly demonstrates that the branch line has already been abandoned by the people in the area for other means of transportation. There is no necessity for the continued existence of the line."

North Western questioned the examiners' conclusion that available highways are not suitable for use during snow and ice weather. "The record shows," it said, "the highways are used month after month for the trucking of all commodities" and that 90 per cent of principal products of the area are now moving by means of other than North Western's branch.

North Western also said there are other railroads in the area which make its own branch unnecessary.

Mrs. Ella Watson Dies At Her Home After Heart Attack

Mrs. Ella U. Watson, 82, of 2411 Bradford Drive, died Thursday at her home. Death was attributed to a heart attack, and followed efforts by firemen to revive her, by means of a resuscitator.

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Watson had lived in Lincoln since 1908. Her husband, William W. Watson, preceded her in death in August, 1949. They had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1940.

Mrs. Watson was a member of the First Methodist church and had lived in Inman before coming to Lincoln.

She is survived by two sons, Earl and Ira, both of Inman; two daughters, Mrs. Verna Warner of Omaha, and Mrs. Anetta Ruehle of Lincoln; a sister, Mrs. Cora Grotty of Amarillo, Tex., 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held 10 a. m. Saturday at Roper and Sons chapel. Burial will be at Inman.

Pen Population Drops; War In Korea Credited

Population at the state penitentiary is following the usual war time pattern, the state board of control said Friday in announcing that the inmates have dropped from 870 in May to 835. They credit the Korean war as being responsible.

The low point in penitentiary population was February, 1947, when there were but 616. The record was set in April, 1937, when there were 857 in the penitentiary proper and 123 at the prison farm then conducted at Genoa.

The May figure of 870 was the largest number actually confined in the prison here. At that time the board of control was considering construction of barracks for walls. This would have cared for those working on the farms, etc.

While the construction plans have not been abandoned, the urgency for the building has been relieved. Penologists believe the proposed building would improve operations and also provide living quarters for single guards.

By housing trustees working out separate from other inmates, prison officials say, there would be less danger of smuggling contraband into the prison.

William Nietenstein, Retired Farmer, Dies

William Nietenstein, 67, of Rt. 6, Lincoln, died Friday at a local hospital. He was a retired farmer. Mr. Nietenstein was born in San Francisco and had lived in this vicinity 65 years. He was a member of Zion Lutheran church west of Emerald.

Surviving are a son, Carl, of Pleasantdale; three daughters, Mrs. Edwin Busboom of Lincoln, Mrs. Rudolph Piening of Malcolm and Mrs. Alva Sultzbach of Lincoln; a brother, Louis of Lincoln; five grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Holiday Toll 198

... Wreck Boosts Total

(By the Associated Press)

The nation counted a record breaking number of accidental deaths over the Thanksgiving holiday.

A crash on the Long Island railroad Thanksgiving eve, killing 77 persons, was the main factor in boosting the toll to a new high for the holiday.

A survey showed a death toll of 198, surpassing last year's record high of 181. It also was far ahead of the 114 accidental deaths in 1948; 128 in 1947 and 83 in 1946.

Traffic accidents this year took the lives of 89 persons—as compared to a record 123 on Thanksgiving day last year. In addition, there were 29 fatalities listed under miscellaneous causes — shootings, fires, drownings and other causes.

Councilman Rees Wilkinson, who introduced the ordinance Monday calling for a committee to study the Thirty-third street opening between Sumner and Normal boulevard, said Friday that he will contact Mayor Victor Anderson as soon as possible in an effort to get that committee appointed.

The council last Monday approved Wilkinson's plan for naming a committee to investigate all issues connected with the opening.

"While I can't see why anyone would object to the idea," said Wilkinson, "a committee study will give everyone a chance to present their views on the subject."

Bell Officials, Union Still Not In Agreement

OMAHA — (AP) — Company and union negotiators Friday failed to break an impasse on proposed wage increases for Northwestern Bell Telephone company workers.

With a midnight deadline on acceptance or rejection of a company offer to grant wage increases of $2 to $5 weekly, the negotiators recessed their meetings Friday. There was no indication of whether the meetings might be resumed later in the day.

J. W. Boustead, president of division 45, Communications Workers of America (CWA) which represents Northwestern Bell employees in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas, said union negotiators "will be available" until after the deadline is past, but unless the company would modify its stand, he saw no hopes for an agreement.

Korean War

traveled four weeks ago to within 14 miles of the Manchurian border before Chinese red attacks forced its withdrawal.

On the right flank, two columns of the Republic of Korea (ROK) First division made unopposed advances on major communist base and key road junction on highways leading to the vital Suho hydroelectric development. The columns were seven miles south and southeast of Taechon.

Yank Prisoners Rescued.

A 25th division task force of the Ninth corps rescued 26 American prisoners of war during a seven mile advance north of Yongbyon. Most of the prisoners were wounded and suffering from frost bite. The rescue was in the general area where Chinese reds released 27 other American POWs two days ago.

The 25th division, spearheaded by two tank columns, bracketed 1300. Elements of the U. S. Second division, attacking from the north, pushed more than six miles, moving three miles beyond the rail center of Kujang against small arms and mortar fire.

Less than half of the Eighth army's 100,000 men were committed to the initial stages of the offensive. Mobilized behind the spearheads were well-organized and well-supplied reserves, ready to exploit any breakthrough in the deep defenses the reds have been reported building in the mountains.

Peace Rumors Quelled.

The offensive came on the heels of a flood of peace rumors. Diplomatic authorities in Washington said the assault might help chances for a peaceful settlement.

It was rumored that a negotiated settlement of the war might be discussed by a red China diplomatic delegation which arrived in New York Friday to attend U. N. sessions.

MacArthur flew over red-held Korean territory on route back to Tokyo. He circled several times over flaming Sinuiju while the general studied damage done by U. S. bombers to the bridges across which Chinese reds had poured into Korea.

There still was no explanation of the week-long withdrawal of communist forces in northwest Korea. They abandoned their fortified lines near allied lines. New defense lines have been dug in the mountains. Road blocks and tank traps dot the highways.

Climbers Ready To Try Again

Wreckage Is Sighted High On Mt. Moran

JACKSON, Wyo. — (INS) — A team of five skilled mountaineers readied Arctic equipment today for a third attempt at scaling 12,594-foot Mount Moran, in hopes of reaching the blackened wreckage of a twin-engine airplane.

A ground party of five men, led by 42-year-old Paul Petzoldt of Riverton, Wyo., turned back late last night to take a new route leading to the site of the tragedy on the northwestern Wyoming peak.

Chief Ranger Paul Judge of Grand Teton national park, said the party spent the night on the mountain, and may traverse it without first returning to the ranger station. He said the trip should take about three days.

Judge said that a party of skiers left the station last night to catch up with the mountain climbers and tell them to turn back, that they were on the wrong route. When they started out yesterday morning, the exact site of the crash had not been determined. radio communications failed, and the skiers were dispatched.

Rev. Olsen at Scene. JACKSON, Wyo.—(AP)—The Rev. Ivan E. Olsen of North Platte, Neb., has arrived in Jackson to investigate the disappearance of a plane carrying members of the New Tribes Mission.

Man Sentenced To 18-Month Term On Charge Of Forgery

Marion Ole Jacobsen, 38, pleaded guilty to a two-count grand jury indictment Friday and was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment and fined $10.

Jacobsen was indicted in March of 1949 by the grand jury, and charged with two counts of forging and uttering a $50 U. S. Savings bond for the purpose of obtaining $37.50 in South Omaha.

Federal Judge John W. Delehant sentenced Jacobsen to 18 months on each count, the sentences to run concurrently, and fined him $5 on each count. Jacobsen went to Federal court from the Nebraska state penitentiary, where he had served a term on a state charge of forgery.

Falls City Mothers Aroused Over Fall Of School Plaster

FALLS CITY, Neb. — (INS) — Mothers of children in the second grade at Central school in Falls City were aroused today over a plaster-falling episode in which Fred Dean, school janitor, was injured.

A chunk of plaster fell on Dean before school started Tuesday. He suffered a minor cut on the head. But, mothers, who labeled the school a "death trap" and are clamoring for a new building, asked in a public statement, "Who knows when the roof might fall in?"

B. T. Clark, secretary of the school board, said all of the remaining plaster was taken off the second-grade room ceiling as a precautionary measure and was to be replaced by Monday when the children return from the Thanksgiving holiday.

Introductions were made by County Agent Verdon Petersen. Chairman Allan Wright of the boys and girls work committee presented the certificate awards.

Use Chewing-Gum Laxative—REMOVES WASTE...NOT GOOD FOOD

When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do as MILLIONS do—chew FEEN-A-MINT.

FEEN-A-MINT is wonderfully different! Doctors say many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon...right in the stomach. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy...you feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that weak, tired feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel fine, full of life! 25¢, 50¢, or only 10¢.

Radio Tie-Up With Papers Is Criticized

... By Ohio Legislator

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) said today he will ask congress to bar newspapers from owning or operating radio stations.

Huber, defeated in the Nov. 7 election, told a reporter he will introduce a bill to carry out his proposal in the "lame duck" session opening Monday. He added:

"In many sections of the country radio stations are the only means of disseminating unbiased news reports. If newspapers continue to gobble up radio stations, our American freedom will be in great danger."

Man Overcome By Carbon Monoxide

John Lash, 39, of 1179 Furnas, employed by the Kington Construction company of Lincoln, was taken to Lincoln General hospital Friday afternoon after being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes.

Lash was scooping cement inside the Western Newspaper Union plant under construction at 2005 Y street, when he was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from a truck used to haul the cement.

A fire department resuscitator was used 10 minutes before Lash regained consciousness and was taken to the hospital.

Trespasser Is Fined $10 Despite Neatness

A tidy trespasser was fined $10 and costs in Municipal court Friday.

Raymond T. Foreman, 49, who gave his address as Florida, pleaded guilty to illegally occupying a CB&Q railroad car the day before Thanksgiving.

A railroad detective said that Foreman brought some coal into the car, built a fire and started to cook a meal before he was apprehended.

"Did he do any damage to the car?" the judge asked.

"None at all. In fact, he swept and cleaned it," the agent replied.

IT'S PHEASANT SEASON AGAIN IN NEBRASKA

Providing good pheasant shooting for the citizens of Nebraska requires a bigger and more cooperative program than most folks know about. For instance, the game commissions of this and many other states have studied, experimented and worked for years to improve the important factors of cover, feed, winter protection and predatory control. The experience gained in other states has been helpful to Nebraska. And our experience has aided them.

Likewise, Nebraska tavern men learn by observing others; and from the helpful suggestions of the brewing industry's continuing educational program, whereby the individual retailer, acting as a responsible member of the community, works to keep his place of business clean, orderly and law-abiding.

Chinese Reds Release 30 More Wounded Yankees

By DON WHITEHEAD.
NORTHWEST FRONT, Korea—(AP)—Thirty wounded American prisoners from the ambushed U. S. Eighth cavalry regiment were released today by Chinese reds.

All but three were litter cases. The Chinese released 27 others Wednesday. The 30 included one captain and three lieutenants.

The men were taken to a village near the American lines Thursday night and placed in a Korean house.

A Chinese guard gave two men a letter to be delivered to U. S. lines.

Found In House.
The letter instructed the American commander to send one litter jeep with a large flag on its right fender and with no arms or escort. The letter said the jeep would be permitted to shuttle the men back to the American lines.

Two prisoners took the letter and walked toward the American lines during the night. An American task force met them on the road.

The task force drove on ahead and found the remaining prisoners in the Korean house.

The liberated doughboys were taken to a clearing station. Reporters were forbidden to see them.

Three-Day Fight.
One of the prisoners told officers he was with a group surrounded and captured after a three-day fight with the red Chinese and North Koreans near Unsan.

He said the reds had kept up persistent attacks day and night. The Americans set haystacks afire at night with tracer bullets. The burning hay illuminated the attacking reds and the Americans were able to repulse them.

One night the Americans set communist trucks ablaze with mortar shells. This light also silhouetted the night raiders.

Tried To Escape Trap.
The following day the Americans got orders to fight their way out the best they could. They tried. The reds opened up with everything.

One prisoner said he was wounded and tried to swim a river, but turned back because he could not make it.

A North Korean soldier approached him. The American reached for his .45 and cocked it. But he was too weak to pull the trigger.

The Korean took him prisoner. He and other Americans were held by North Koreans for four days. Then Chinese reds took charge of the group.

Given Good Treatment.
They were given good treatment, the best the Chinese could offer, the prisoner said. They also were given some medical care.

One man was operated on by a Chinese doctor who removed shattered pieces of bone from his leg.

The Chinese told the Americans they believed the South Koreans had invaded North Korea and that the Americans intended to cross the Manchurian border.

The prisoners were not given political lectures as were the men in the group of 27.

The 30 men were moved by ambulance to the rear late Friday and evacuated by plane to hospital.

Lithuanian DPs Have Thanksgiving With U.S. Friends

OMAHA.—(AP)—Some 700 Lithuanian displaced persons and Americans who had befriended them sat down together in South Omaha Thursday night at a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

The American holiday observance had an old world flavor. There were both Lithuanian and American dishes and throughout the dinner, rousing Lithuanian songs and colorful folk dances were presented by groups of displaced persons.

About 200 certificates were awarded to those "old" Americans who had helped the "new" Americans in a strange land. The scrolls declared the displaced persons "ever grateful" on this "day of Thanksgiving."

Congress Slowdown Probable

GOP Wants A Short Session To Capitalize Bigger January Vote

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A prospective republican slowdown spelled trouble today for administration proposals in the lame duck congress beginning Monday.

Republican leaders were reported in private agreement that work in the expiring session ought to be held to a minimum. They will have added strength in both houses—and thus a larger voice in decisions—when the new congress meets in January.

The GOP's reluctance to act might contribute difficulties to President Truman's demands for approval of an excess profits tax and for an extension of rent controls in the short session. It could help kill house-approved Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills, on which Mr. Truman has asked action.

More For Korea
There may be some questions about details, but republicans are expected to go along with a forthcoming presidential request for another big chunk of money to finance the fighting in Korea and to build up military forces. Included in this are likely to be additional funds for atomic developments.

Although Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) has indicated he would oppose a request for aid to Yugoslavia unless something is done about nationalist China, the majority of republicans may back the president's plan to provide economic help to the drought-stricken Balkan country.

Rent Control Fight Seen.

A proposed 60- to 90-day extension of rent controls may provide a hot fight. Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate banking committee has indicated he will go along with a short extension. Present controls expire Dec. 31, unless extended six months by local communities.

Sen. Ties (R-NY) has said he could support a brief extension of the present law. Sen. Taft of Ohio who heads the GOP policy committee, has insisted that rent controls should be tied up with price-wage controls which the president said he isn't ready to impose yet.

The excess profits tax situation is up in the air. House passage of such a bill conceivably could be followed by no final senate action in this congress.

Say It With Food

The latest proposal put forward by a farm bloc in congress to utilize American surplus foodstuffs to relieve desperate hunger conditions in drouth-stricken Yugoslavia makes a lot of sense.

The American aid program to foreign nations to curb the spread of communism has never presented a better opportunity to kill two birds with one stone. Tito's Yugoslavia split with Moscow in 1948, has been a thorn in Stalin's side ever since, and if it can be accepted that the defense of western Europe is imperative to American security, then food for the Yugoslavians is more important than bullets, bombs, and airplanes. The farm bloc in congress wants to draw upon the huge accumulated surpluses of dried eggs and butter. In short, the proposal not only would avert starvation in a vital area of southeast Europe, but it would also put to excellent use surplus foodstuffs which in the end either will be destroyed or hang like a sword over the heads of the dairy and poultry industries of America.

The seething argument in Washington, with Secretary of State Acheson in the center of it, has reached the height of absurdity.

California's Senator Knowland publicly has indicated that he will oppose aid to Yugoslavia until it is extended to Chiang Kai-shek. Of course Senator Knowland knows, and perhaps most of the American people have forgotten, that actually the United States gave Kai-shek's government more than three billion dollars in aid, along with undiscounted amounts of military equipment and supplies. But if it has been a mistake to withhold additional aid to the Chinese nationalists opposed to Moscow, and who now incidentally are protected by the American seventh fleet before Formosa, is that an argument of convincing force that we should withhold aid from the Yugoslavs, who oppose Moscow? Is there really anything in the parallel which the Knowlandites project?

In these broad questions of policy, one affecting the Far East, the second nearer home in the Mediterranean area of southeastern Europe, less partisanship and personalities could contribute infinitely to American understanding.

Fred C. Ayres

Fred C. Ayres never could wean himself entirely from the feel of printer's ink. He worked for Billy Smith on The Seward Independent, for eight years was editor of The Holbrook Observer, and he was a faithful member of the Nebraska Press Association. Mr. Ayres liked people, and people liked him. In his writings, he was kindly and fair, a good reporter as well as a sane, sound observer. He was deeply interested in public affairs, served a term as state auditor, and as deputy secretary of state. He was painstaking and conscientious, thorough in everything which he undertook.

The Neighbors Say

The inventive instinct has produced some wonderful contraptions . . . and some a little less . . . the line between convenience and catastrophe sometimes being barely discernible . . . Scores of Nebraskans, along with other midwest farmers . . . were sacrificing fingers, hands, arms, and even lives on the altar of the time-saving treachery of mechanical corn pickers . . . and in traditional spirit, neighbors were gathering to help out . . .

Another crop which is now all but harvested, and which has seen a tremendously successful season, is western Nebraska's sugar-beet output.

Initial payments from one company alone to growers in the four-state area which includes Nebraska totaled nearly 27 million dollars, with supplemental payments expected to up the final ante to at least 34 million, and with checks going to some 9,000 growers. The Mitchell Index sets forth that the average in its territory will be $11.93 per ton. With a yield of 15.3 tons, this means an average gross return of $182.53 per acre, without the value of the beet tops, and a total initial amount paid thus far to Mitchell factory growers near the $1,300,000 mark. High yields in that vicinity included George Morimoto, 37.41 acres, with a yield of 19.44 tons per acre; and Rudolph Rehder, 42.81 acres that yielded 19.11 tons per acre.

Nebraska grown and prepared products are finding their way around these days. Nebraska City's Major Ralph Petring opened a can of soup in Korea recently, where he is serving with the First Cavalry. It had been packed in Nebraska City—and it was good, the major reported, especially after weeks of cold rations.

Mrs. Evelyn Vogt Bancroft points out something in her West Point Republican column that has been disturbing us, too. And that is this annual June-in-January tendency to shove Christmas clear up to early autumn and spread it so thin over the remaining months that the mood—if it reaches maturity, at all—is in serious danger of shattering before December 25 ever rolls around. "Nowadays, as soon as one little leaf falls off a tree," Mrs. Bancroft observes, "the hullabaloo about Christmas shopping begins. Reminds me of the story of 'Chicken Little' . . . a leaf fell off its back and the silly thing ran around screaming, 'The sky is falling!' . . . Don't misunderstand me. I'm not objecting to folks being a little beforehand. But really! I would like to enjoy my Thanksgiving turkey without feeling like a heel because I haven't a couple dozen presents wrapped and tied. This might be my solution to the problem:

"Just Like A Woman"

Since I'm always late with Christmas shopping,
At last I've thought what I can do.
This year I'll buy my friends two presents
Then label one for next year, too!"

Home By Christmas

In the offensive designed to clear North Korean soil of communists, General Douglas MacArthur expressed the hope that he might be able to send American fighting men home for Christmas. That would be about the finest present families of the men in the ranks could receive. There are a lot of unanswered questions—such as, what happens or what should be expected after Korean soil is cleared of communists? But at present, it is heartwarming merely to entertain the thought that the men who have been engaged in battle in Korea are homeward bound.

PLACE FOR THE ARMY ENGINEERS?

Out at North Platte a week hence, the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee will get down to business again.

It will face up with the problem of developing an administrative plan acceptable to basic conflicting interests of the states interested in Missouri basin development, in the hope of obtaining maximum benefits from the vast sums of money being spent to bring a turbulent river under control. The people in the lower Missouri basin are more interested in the elimination of destructive floods, development of cheap water transportation, and year-around assurance of sufficient stream flow to meet the needs of cities situated upon the Missouri's banks. In the areas bordering upon the upper Missouri, the prime concern is the storage of water for the expansion of irrigation to hundreds of thousands of acres of semi-arid land, fertile, but in need of more water during the growing season than nature provides. And that means huge dams, filled reservoirs, with a part of the cost of construction defrayed by the generation of cheap electricity.

The conflict largely is in the minds of people living in different parts of the Missouri basin. Actually flood control, water storage, expansion of irrigation, generation of electricity, and the maintenance of steady stream flow supplement one another. They do not interfere with each other. But the fact that the multiple purposes of sound river basin development can be reconciled in no way allays fears aroused through misunderstanding, or fanned by powerful interests actually hostile to a comprehensive program of river development. The North Platte meeting will receive a report, previously requested by the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee, from the Council of State Governments, setting up a plan of administration designed to leave the operation of the Missouri flood structures in the hands of the peoples of the Missouri basin states to the exclusion of federal agencies.

It is oversimplification to say that the argument simmers down to the question of whether administration shall be by Washington or by people living in the Missouri basin (local control vs. a federal authority) but that is the way it has been presented, or the issue that has been planted in people's minds.

Early in the week, General Samuel D. Sturgis, of the army engineers, was guest speaker at the second annual farm forum sponsored by

With the defense budget for the next fiscal year, and the one to follow it estimated to run from 40 to 60 billions, an economy-minded congress, keenly aware of the mounting tax rebellion, may decide to eliminate the flood-control program save for the developments now under construction. But until the decision is clear, the campaign of education should go forward. Within the ranks of the army engineers, and the agencies interested in a soil conservation program, there is a disposition to work harmoniously. Whatever misunderstanding has arisen comes from the outside, and not from within. But in the interest of a sound flood-control program, it is vital that the facts be established. It would be embarrassing if, under the considerable expenditures of a single type of development, the people within a stream basin should awaken to the fact that the steps which they had taken in good faith actually were no real preventatives to major floods.

Personally, we think General Sturgis had a point in his address to Missouri farmers at the annual farm forum of the University of Missouri. A soil conservation program in itself, magnificent as it is, will not eliminate floods in regions where torrential downpours are a familiar experience. Then dams and reservoirs are essential.

Washington Merry-Go-Round — TRUMAN TRIED TO EASE CHINESE WAR DANGER

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—There were two things that didn't meet the eye behind the president's recent statement that the United States had no military designs on China:

1. The state department had tried to get Gen. MacArthur to issue a somewhat similar statement but he refused.

2. The Russian radio is waging a terrific propaganda campaign to persuade the Chinese that the United States is about to bomb their major cities. That was why residents of Canton were panicked over air-raid reports the other day.

To allay China's fears, Truman not only issued his sudden White House statement, but a copy of it was cabled to New Delhi, India, where Ambassador Loy Henderson handed it to Prime Minister Nehru. Henderson, explaining that he was acting on instructions from Washington, requested that the full text of Truman's statement be handed personally to Chinese President Mao Tse-Tung in Peiping.

Incidentally, Henderson added that he did not want the Indian ambassador in Peiping, Sardar Panniker, to add any comments of his own in delivering the statement. The reason for Ambassador Henderson's crack about Ambassador Panniker is that the latter is considered pro-communist and has been muddying up relations between the U. S. and China. At one time, the state department even requested Prime Minister Nehru to fire him.

NOTE.—Meanwhile, U. S. intelligence continues to be baffled over the behavior of Chinese troops in North Korea. They melt away before U. S. advances, apparently not wanting to give battle. Either they have no quar-

Washington Calling — DEMOCRATS CAUGHT BETWEEN 'DEVIL AND DEEP BLUE SEA'

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON.—The more the democrats contemplate the months ahead, the more they realize the trap they are in. That old phase—"between the devil and the deep blue sea"—has rarely applied with such literalness as it does to the party in power.

On the one side is the explosive pressure of rising prices. On Monday the latest consumer price index will be announced by the bureau of labor statistics. Since all prices have been steadily climbing, no wizardry is required to predict that it will be close to the all-time high reached in 1948 if, indeed, it does not surpass that peak. The wholesale price index has already passed the high-water mark. Short of some sudden shift, consumer prices follow as night follows day.

What is more, the ablest economists in government see no end to this trend. It may be temporarily arrested during the winter months as a result of cutbacks in consumer production. But this is likely to be only temporary.

Cotton futures prices hit an all-time high on the New York cotton exchange the other day with December deliveries opening up to 44 cents a pound. Natural rubber brought as high as 92 cents a pound for December delivery, with some slackening off indicated for after the end of the year. This compares with 20 cents a pound less than a year ago.

The Korean war and the rearmament program, plus the inevitable accompanying speculation, have been largely responsible. Some blame a sudden spurt of stockpiling which put the stockpiles into the commodity market at the same time everybody else was trying to buy raw materials. While the Korean war may be at a temporary standstill, the rearmament program has just begun to be felt. The likelihood is for pressures equally great during the coming year.

If this is the "devil," and a very active devil it is, then the "deep blue sea" is represented by the alternative, which is across the board controls with a rollback in prices. The fear within the administration is that such controls in "peacetime" would be

NEBRASKANS: In The Workshop And At Home

No. 57 of a series

LINCOLN HIGH houses under its roof during the study day, enough future citizens to populate a fair-sized Nebraska town. Fourteen hundred boys and girls pass up and down its halls every day of the school week—all active, all energetic, but also possessed of pretty decent ideas on co-operation and student responsibility which minimizes the natural problem for that large a collective group, and for the 70 faculty members in charge there.

William Bogar is now well into his first year as principal of Lincoln High. Prior to Lincoln High, he served three years as principal at Whittier and at Ft. Madison, Iowa, McCook, and West Point. His teaching career included also Alliance and Minatare.

A NATIVE Iowan, Mr. Bogar went to junior college there, received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Nebraska. He has served on the staff during the summer at the vocational, and last year taught summer courses at Columbia university's teachers college.

"I had always regarded Lincoln High as the best school in Nebraska," is his opinion. "So it was an honor and privilege for me to become its principal."

A tour of the building offers foundation for his pride in the institution. There are darkrooms for the photography classes, an elaborate carpentry shop, electronics and radio shop, print shop, mechanical repairing set-up, the cafeteria which serves about 1,400 meals each noon, and many other features.

Lincoln High has ranked well among the winners in a variety of competition, too. Its students will point with satisfaction to achievement to the trophies awarded them for excellence in football, basketball, swimming, golf, typing, music . . . And they turn out a very good newspaper, and one recognized widely for its journalistic quality, The Advocate.

THE school is so equipped and administered that a student may leave fully prepared for a job. Clerical classes of all kinds are of "good human relations," a necessary basis for a good educational program, and a theory which he puts into active and practical use.

Santa Claus sat down to the dinner table as cross as a bear. He didn't even glance at his wife to see which of her caps was on her white-haired head. And that was a thing Santa was always very particular to notice.

Mrs. Santa Claus had three caps—her Sleeping Cap, her Working Cap, and her Thinking Cap.

The first was knit of white cotton yarn with a small scrumpy crown, fitting close to her head. It was made with not even a pucker or gather, or frill, or a scrap of trimming on it, and it was tied under her double chin with strings a quarter of a yard long.

When she wore this special cap, Santa took off his boots and went around on tip-toe.

stiff cloth, in the shape of a large inverted candy horn. It had a large, bright yellow bow in front and a large blue one behind. The high-peaked top stood up in a fierce and defiant way.

When she appeared in this towering fashion, Santa Claus always thought best to keep at a respectful distance. So did Marly the dog, and Persia the cat, and Yak-Yak the parrot.

But the Thinking Cap! This was something to see, and when the good old lady placed that on her head, with its full crown and its pretty floating ribbons then Marly

MY COUNTRY.
What can be offered by our foes
Exceeding all that our possess?
Where round the world are fewer woes
And more of unchecked happiness?
What Godless country can display
So many homes and temples fair?
How could a man our land betray
Who once had breathed its wholesome some air?
What is there under tyrant might
That men can think of, hear or see.
That can surpass the precious right
Of living as a people free?
Some thinking strange I under-

Food Index Up

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food index this week advanced to $6.63—highest level since Sept. 19 when it was $6.67.

The index was 5 cents above last week and compared with $5.74 a year ago. The low since the Korean war was $6.48 on Oct. 10.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher in wholesale cost this week were oats, barley, beef, bellies, lard, butter, coffee, cottonseed oil, eggs, potatoes and currants.

Lower were corn, rye, hams, sugar, cocoa and hogs.

Doug Flies Far Behind Red Lines

M'Arthur's Unarmed Plane Circles Yalu And Suiho Dam

... No Red Jets Rise To Challenge Americans

By RELMAN MORIN.

TOKYO—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur's amazing flight today to the Yalu river, 60 miles behind enemy lines and over known red fighter nests, was not a spur-of-the-moment caprice.

He said he had been considering it for some time.

He is the first supreme commander in history to calmly fly into enemy territory and examine the objectives of the offensive. He coolly circled the areas where the Chinese communists have been the most sensitive to the approach of any aircraft.

The flight was made in an unarmed private plane in brilliant sunlight shortly after 2 p. m.

"That," said Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, one of MacArthur's aides, "is what I would call thumbing your nose at the Chinese."

"That," a correspondent replied, "is what I would call pushing your luck a little."

MacArthur apparently is completely fearless. Or else he has such complete confidence in his own lucky star that it never occurred to him that to take a Constellation over a hive of 600-mile-an-hour jets might be immensely dangerous.

This is the way it felt and looked.

We had spent four icy hours touring the front.

The "SCAP," MacArthur's own plane, was a beautiful sight, a big silver stove, when the jeeps jolted back over frozen roads to the airfield at Sinuiju.

MacArthur's chair is in the after part of the plane. It swivels around like parlor chairs in the new Pullmans.

Correspondents Gulp.

"We are going to reconnoitre the Yalu river," Whitney said, "and the Suiho dam and anything else that looks interesting."

The correspondents stopped writing. One gulped, cleared his throat and said:

"I wonder if this trip is really necessary."

Another recalled a report, one hour earlier, of enemy aircraft over the artillery sections of the American 25th division.

The faces of Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the Far East air forces, two major generals, a brigadier general and three colonels all froze . . . into the expressionless mask of a professional soldier who sets out on a job he doesn't like.

The "SCAP" took off.

Stratemeyer said, "we are going to circle for a bit to give time for the fighters to join us."

Jet Protection

"How many? And are they jets?" somebody asked.

"They're jets," the general said, "but I can't tell you how many."

Then he added, "Enough, I hope."

The plane headed north toward Sinuiju . . . the hottest corner, in terms of antiaircraft and enemy jet fighters, in Korea.

MacArthur lit his pipe and settled back calmly. An officer brought him a pile of topographical maps.

As the plane passed over the American lines you could see signs of the fighting. Great billowing columns of white smoke were rising gently from the sides of mountains. Clusters of thatched roof huts were smoldering.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Anthony Story was on the address system: "General, our boys are along-side."

Three black waspish F-51 fighter arches off lazily to the left and below us. The faster and more formidable jets were overhead flying cover.

Sinuiju Looms Up.

Suddenly the border city of Sinuiju was below. It is brown with clay, black with the charred wreckage of previous bombings and blue-white from the haze of a recent bombing. It's an ugly city, a city with a broken nose.

On the other side of the Yalu—in Manchuria—is Antung, another cluster of low slat houses and crooked streets. The enemy jets have come from Antung.

But they didn't come today. There was this big juicy transport roughly five seconds away, doing 300 miles an hour and just half as fast as a jet. Moreover she was flying under escort, a sure sign of a VIP (very important person).

Why they didn't come up is another of those pleasant mysteries of the inscrutable east.

"SCAP" circled the city again. We were at 9,000 feet. Then we headed east toward the great Suiho dam. It was a gleaming white wall between the mouse colored sides of the riverbed.

Birthday Cake for Lunch.

It holds the Yalu in a vise and forms an icy lake 60 miles long. This is the fourth largest dam in the world and almost as large as Boulder dam or the Grand Coulee. It supplies power for big industrial cities in both Manchuria and north Korea.

We headed due south. It was 3:10 p. m., an hour and 10 minutes since we sighted Sinuiju. It seemed much later.

At lunch time there was a birthday cake for General Stratemeyer. He is 60. We began to relax and talk about the trip.

I asked Story how he felt when MacArthur ordered him to go into enemy territory.

"Well," he said, "he told me a couple days ago he had it in mind. He is the boss. And I would take him any place he wants to go."

War Proves U. S. Needs Large Navy

... Matthews Says

TOKYO — (AP) — The war in Korea has proved the United States must maintain a large navy in "a high state of readiness," Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews said today.

Matthews told the Foreign Correspondents club that Korea has demonstrated the navy is indispensable.

He said a large part of the world had a misunderstanding of the American mind.

"We failed to tell the world the cardinal fact that no country has a single thing which the United States want," Matthews said.

Americans, Matthews said, "concede to all the God-given privilege of working out their own destiny."

M'Arthur For Headlines

Human Blood Plasma Found Useful After 2 Years' Storage

CHICAGO—(INS)—A team of Chicago scientists reported today that human blood plasma may be stored at room temperature as long as two years and still be effective for treatment of shock—a discovery of tremendous importance to medical planning against atom-bomb disasters.

A study directed by Dr. J. Garrott Allen of the University of Chicago indicates that infection with jaundice and other diseases believed transmitted by exceedingly long-lived viruses is not encountered when such plasma is used for transfusions.

At present, most medical agencies store plasma by drying, freezing, or refrigerating and establish arbitrary periods up to nine months beyond which the plasma may not be used.

These methods preserve the plasma—but they are also the best methods for preserving viruses which may be present in the plasma.

In an article in the current journal of the American Medical association, the research team said it found that no known viruses live long when stored at room temperatures. In addition, the food value of the stored plasma is not impaired.

The discovery may open the way to simplified methods of pooling and storing plasma—one of the greatest medical needs in the event of atom bomb attack.

2 Nebraskans Win 4-H Watch Awards

Handsome gold-filled watches were awarded to two Nebraska club members for achieving highest rating in Nebraska for work in the 1950 national 4-H leadership program. A brief review of their records follows:

Outstanding leadership in club and community brought state honors to Calvin Kuska, 18, of Omaha, and Beverly Timmons, 18, of Valley.

A 4-Her for 10 years, Calvin has spent four years as club leader, influencing and helping some 200 between the ages of 8 and 18. He was chosen to represent Nebraska on the president's White House committee on children and youth. He has helped make and install 51 educational booths at the Douglas county, Fremont district and Nebraska state fairs, winning many awards. He was chairman of the community scrap drive which provides funds for Red Cross, radio and other charities. Calvin was state and national pooler and attended club congress in Chicago last year. He is now enrolled at the University of Nebraska agricultural college.

Beverly has been a club member seven years. For two years she has successfully led two groups of younger girls in their clothing activities, teaching sewing, wardrobe planning and good grooming. She also served as club president in two other clubs. She has been assistant superintendent at District fair counselor at 4-H camp and has helped with radio publicity work.

This program is conducted under the direction of the extension service of the state agricultural college and USDA co-operating.

Cold Weather Grips Nation's Eastern Half

... Many Records Fall

(By the Associated Press)
The season's coldest weather overspread the entire eastern half of the country today. Temperatures from the Rockies as far east as the Appalachians fell from 20 to 40 degrees in 24 hours.

Arctic air, bringing many record-breaking low temperatures, extended to the Gulf states and was entering the Atlantic coastal area Friday morning. Unequaled low temperatures for this time of the year were particularly prevalent in Illinois and the Ohio valley.

Pittsburgh Snowbound.
Northern Wisconsin reported temperatures of 13 to 15 below, while North Dakota was down to from five to 10 and more below. Minot, N. D., reported a frigid -13, and Chadron, Neb., had -16. Chicago got down to -2, with lower readings in the suburbs.

The cold air brought snow to many areas. Traffic in Pittsburgh was paralyzed and thousands were late to work as snow and falling temperatures made driving hazardous.

A snowstorm also struck Knoxville, Tenn., early today. Forecasters predicted the snow might reach an unaccustomed depth of five inches there.

In contrast, southern California and the far southwest were having a mild heat wave, with readings in the high 80s for Thanksgiving day.

France's Schuman Says Army Of West Europe Must Include Germans

STRASBOURG, France—(AP)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman today called for a west European army including German units as a basis for world peace.

Schuman told the European consultative assembly "there is no other solution possible for Germany's security. To rearm Germany with a national army would provoke a reaction in the east of great importance."

Outlining France's project for a European army, Schuman said that, with units integrated in the European force, renewal of conflicts between national armies would become "definitely and effectively" impossible.

The foreign minister cited his own plan for pooling European steel and coal resources and said, "We must follow the same method in the military domain."

Schuman did not mention a proposed size for German units in the projected European army—an issue which has divided France and the U. S. in current Atlantic pact talks on the French plan. He said, however, that some nations would naturally have to have larger military establishments because of their own political situation.

German spokesmen have declared they will contribute troops to a European army only on a footing of complete equality.

McClary Warns Germans.
KIEL, Germany (AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy warned the Germans today that they "must square away" the issue of defending freedom in Europe.

'Greater Production Answer To Prices'

... Sen. Anderson Opposes Controls Now

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-NM) declared today that abundant production—rather than price controls—is the best way to keep prices in line.

The New Mexico lawmaker said it would be a mistake to impose controls now, and he added:

"Abundant production is the best policeman we have to keep prices right. Rigid controls curtail production. They often result in shortages which are the basic cause of price increases."

"I don't say we may not have to resort to price controls again," the former secretary of agriculture told a reporter. "But the time has not arrived. The best way to fight high prices now is to encourage greater production."

1949 Maternal Death Rate In U. S. Lowest Ever For Large Nation

CHICAGO—(INS)—The American Medical association announced today that last year's maternal death rate in the U. S. dropped to slightly below one in every thousand live births—the lowest figure ever recorded by a large nation.

A report in the current AMA journal noted that Sweden, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands and New Zealand may join the "under 1,000" cycle when 1949 figures for them become available.

The new U. S. record, still based on preliminary figures, compares with a maternal death rate of 1.2 per 1,000 live births in 1948 and 6.2 in 1933.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

(Distributed by International News Serv.)
If all the turkeys eaten yesterday were laid end to end, all the people who ate them would lie down with them about now.

All I know is that the diet kitchen in my block has a sign over the door today that says: "come in and repent, sinners!"

And they changed signs in our elevator. "Capacity, 18 persons, 2,500 pounds" to "Friday only capacity, 15 persons, 3,000 pounds."

One thing about us Americans, if we can give thanks by eating our way through 10 courses you won't find a more thankful people anywhere.

I hear things were so quiet in one dietitian's office yesterday he took himself to lunch three times, subtracting the checks from the calories and came out a little ahead.

But today he's got 68 people banging the beam on his scale and murmuring: "I can't imagine what happened. . . I barley touched my plate."

And that could be true too—A fellow with a good underhand fork swing can clean the plate and never touch it.

Baking Equipment Contracts Are Let

Baking equipment contracts for the new general kitchen at Lincoln state hospital were awarded to T. F. Naughtin Co., the state board of control announced Friday. The bids were received Oct. 24 and have been under study on several items.

The board rejected bids on cold storage trucks and racks, meat roasting ovens and meat choppers, peelers, etc. New bids will be asked on revised specifications in order to reduce the price.

Aerovoid sterilizers will be purchased direct from the company as no bids were received.

Hearing Society—The Hearing Society will meet at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, at the Y.W.C.A. to hear a talk by Miss Elsie Rokahr, of the Lincoln high school foreign language department, on her recent world tour. A program of music will be presented by Miss Jacqueline Reinick. The public is invited to attend, and a program of lipreading will be held at 7 o'clock, preceding the meeting.

3-YEAR-OLD SHARON SUE REGAINS USABLE SIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Sharon Sue Clubb can see. The 3-year-old South Bend, Ind., girl, almost blind since birth, sees well enough to play with toys and recognize objects. She had two delicate eye operations.

Doctors said "Sharon has vision in both eyes, usable sight. But it is not perfect vision."

Dr. Otto Barkan operated on Sharon Sue to cure glaucoma, a hardening of the eyeballs.

Four previous operations had failed.

The mother, Mrs. Edna Clubb, herself hospitalized with gall bladder trouble, said:

"It's wonderful. . . I'm very grateful to all who helped us."

The South Bend local of the Bartenders union and a physician there financed the Clubb's trip to San Francisco.

Casualties Now Near 30,000

4,993 Of Total Are Deaths; 4,439 More Missing In Action

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Announced American casualties in the Korean conflict rose today to 29,996, an increase of 1,115 over a week ago.

The new total covers casualties about which next of kin had been notified through Friday, Nov. 17. It does not include all casualties that had occurred up to that time because of the time required to check casualty reports in the Far East, forward them to the defense department and notify relatives.

Of the total number of casualties, 4,993 were deaths. The number of non-fatally wounded was 20,568. An additional 4,439 had been reported missing in action.

Of the latter, four had subsequently died and are included in both the "dead" and "missing" totals, 528 returned to United Nations military lines and 107 were learned to be in enemy hands. This left the number listed as currently missing on Nov. 17 at 3,800.

O'Sullivan Lists $8,162 Expense

Eugene O'Sullivan, Omaha, filed an election campaign expense report of $8,162 with the secretary of state Friday. O'Sullivan, a democrat, was defeated for reelection to congress from the second district. Contribution were given as $7,999.

MacArthur's Aide Says US Arranging Military Details To Kill Enemy

TOKYO—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, Gen. MacArthur's military secretary, was questioned today about Washington reports saying political settlement of the Korean war is merely awaiting arrangement of military details and he replied:

"That is exactly what we are doing with this offensive—arranging military details to kill the enemy."

Whitney made the comment as he was flying with MacArthur from Tokyo to the Korean front.

Artist Guild Collection To NU Galleries

The Lincoln Artists' Guild's collection of more than 30 paintings, prints and drawings by Nebraska artists has been loaned permanently to the University of Nebraska art galleries, Duard Laging, acting director of the galleries announced Friday.

The collection will be housed and maintained by the university galleries and will become a part of the display there. The pictures probably will be available for use throughout the state, Laging said.

The Guild recently purchased four works from its 14th annual All-Nebraska show, currently on display in the university art galleries.

They are: "Quarry," watercolor by Gail Butt; "Vancouver Island," watercolor by Shirley Cane; "Trail Ridge," brush drawing by Freda Spaulding; and "Serenade," engraving by Rudy O. Pozzatti. All the artists are residents of Lincoln. The pictures will be added to the permanent collection.

'Human Failure' Gets Blame For L. I. Wreck

... Gov. Dewey Leads One Of Several Inquiries

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today that preliminary evidence indicates "a human failure" was the cause of the Thanksgiving eve Long Island railroad wreck which took 77 lives.

over the holiday crash of two commuter trains. One electric train plowed into the rear of another, which was stalled about 10 miles from Times Square. The front and rear cars of the two 12-car trains telescoped.

The mayor said he was determined that the Long Island must operate, at least within the city, with all "necessary automatic safeguards, no matter what the cost shall be."

The railroad has a modern block signal system but, except for tracks in tunnels, the system operates with lights only and there are no automatic brake trippers.

Dewey said commission findings showed the express which plowed into the rear of a stalled train had passed through one warning signal and one stop signal at full speed of between 60 and 65 miles per hour.

Mile and a Half From Scene.
The warning signal was a mile and a half from the scene of the accident.

Stressing that the investigation had "just started," the governor declared:

"Whatever the cause, human or mechanical, the situation on the Long Island railroad is utterly intolerable."

"I propose to take every step necessary and possible to make it a safe railroad at the quickest possible moment."

One hundred and ten people have died in the two Long Island wrecks this year.

Dewey and Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri cut short their post-election vacations and flew home—the governor from Miami Beach and the mayor from Cuba.

Modern Block System.
Both expressed horror and grief

... For West's Defense

HEIDELBERG, Germany.—(AP)—The United States today announced reactivation in Europe of its Seventh army—the first American "army" on the continent since demobilization after World war II.

The Seventh army will have its headquarters in Stuttgart. Its commander will be Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commanding general of U. S. ground forces in Europe.

Anticipating the planned increase of American forces in Europe, the new Seventh will provide the organization into which the new units can be assimilated.

Letter Perfect FROM Helen Stenson

Dear Mary,

Remember Fred—that real nice butcher down at Safeway? He always asks about you. Said if you were still a cube-steak fan to try them his new way. When the steaks are done and still piping hot heap them with Lunch Box Spread. I told him I'd tell you.

Old nosy me—I had to find out about this Lunch Box Well, it's a sandwich spread made only of pure mayonnaise and blended with pickle relish and sweet red peppers. Awfully good—and your Safeway store there will have it. By the way, I tried it on the cube steaks and Fred is right—it's grand!

Since then, I've been using Lunch Box Spread in all our sandwiches—and here's one especially nice for parties. Cut the tops off 6 French rolls—just enough to form a hinged lid. Scoop out centers and fill with a mixture of 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup minced parsley, 2 chopped hard-boiled eggs and a No. 1 can of salmon, flaked. Moisten with Lunch Box Sandwich Spread, fill the rolls and prepare to eat hearty.

The children are so crazy about this spicy spread that I pack little paper cups of it in their lunches for dunking carrot and celery sticks. No wonder I buy the quart size!

Don't forget Fred's idea—or Lunch Box Spread when you shop.

Love, Helen

Strong Wind Fans Fire Leveling Hartington Church Structure Destroyed In An Hour

Defective Wiring Believed As Cause

HARTINGTON, Neb.—(AP)—Fanned by a strong northerly wind, fire swept through the Holy Trinity Catholic church Friday leveling it within an hour.

The fire had gained considerable headway when discovered shortly after 4 a. m. and attempts by firemen to battle the blaze in near zero temperatures were futile.

Fire Chief Lester Samelson said the blaze apparently started from defective wiring. An investigation was under way, however, to officially determine the cause.

Loss Not Estimated. No other buildings were threatened because the church is located on the south edge of town. Sparks carried by the wind, however, set a corn field ablaze about a mile south of the church. It was quickly extinguished.

Monsignor B. H. Lordemann, pastor of the church, was unable to give an immediate estimate of the loss. All the church records were destroyed.

The church, a frame building, was constructed in 1903 at a cost of $15,000. Recently a new heating plant was installed and plans were made to redecorate the interior.

Recently when plans for a new church building were discussed, it was estimated that a brick structure would cost between $250,000 and $300,000.

Extension Dairyman C. W. Nibler of the University of Nebraska, who is chairman of the arrangements committee for Farm and Home days, said women will have a wide variety of subjects to choose from in attending the event.

There will be topics such as these: how to know what to buy in kitchen utensils, marriage, food preservation by freezing, how a big store buys for Nebraska women, stretching the wardrobe through accessories, modern decorating problems and grandmothering successfully.

Two Shootings And Stabbing Are Reported ... Omaha Thanksgiving

OMAHA.—(AP)—Two shootings and a stabbing Thanksgiving eve have been reported to police. John Oliver, 22, suffered a bullet crease across his chest. Raymond Sadler, doorman at the Blue Room at McGill's bar, who fired the shot, told detectives that Oliver became "abusive, attempted to strike and started to draw something from his pocket."

Oliver was booked for investigation and Sadler as complaining witness. Conflicting reports were given by participants in a shooting outside Maxie Liquor store.

Shes Denies Shooting. Otis Cooper, 43, was treated at County hospital for a scalp cut and slight bullet wound in the leg.

He told police he went to the bar to get Florence Cooper, 36, to come home with him. After an argument, he said, Florence fired several shots at him.

The woman, police said, charges Cooper pulled the gun and fired. She denies she ever handled the gun.

Newton E. Davison, 33, suffered a knife slash on the face in a street attack. Police said Davison accused William Robinson, 33, of an "unprovoked" attack. Robinson, booked for investigation, denies he cut Davison.

41 States Mark Fatality Increase; Nebraska 23 Per.

Capt. C. J. Sanders, Nebraska Safety patrol, reported Friday that according to a recent report of the National Safety Council, 41 states over the nation have reported increases this year in traffic fatalities over last year.

Nevada headed the list of those states having gains with a 57 per cent increase. Nebraska was tied for fourteenth place with Kentucky and Texas with an increase of 23 per cent.

Capt. Sanders added "In spite of this increase, Nebraska's traffic record is much better than it appears on the surface. On the basis of mileage, which is the most accurate gauge of measuring traffic records, Nebraska had 5.4 deaths per hundred million miles of travel. This compares favorably with North Dakota's five deaths per hundred million miles of travel. This is especially gratifying since North Dakota led the seven states, having decreases, with a 33 per cent decrease in traffic deaths."

CHICAGO—Nebraska livestock breeders have entered their usual top-notch number of animals in the forthcoming 51st International Livestock exposition, according to the latest tabulations compiled by show officials.

ARRIVING LAST WEEK-END to remain through the Thanksgiving week-end were Mrs. Frank Tallman of Bartlesville, Okla., and the small Tallmans who are, from left to right—Anna, Frank, Jr., Sally, and Elizabeth.

Mrs. Tallman and her children are guests at the home of Mrs. Tallman's mother, Mrs. Frank Boehmer, and her grandmother, Mrs. I. G. Chapin.

West O Woman's club

The November meeting of the West O Woman's club was held last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leo J. Sheehan. The members completed plans for the club's annual Christmas party, and a lesson on the making of aluminum trays and coasters was given by Mrs. Reginald Ray and Mrs. George Rudolph.

Howell's Suits Asking $200,000 Are Dismissed

Federal Judge John W. Delehant sustained motions for summary judgments Friday in two damage suits totaling $200,000 brought by Ernest W. Howell, an inmate of the state penitentiary.

Howell's $50,000 suit against Gov. Val Peterson, and his $150,000 suit against Robert Stutz, former sheriff of Thayer county, were dismissed after oral argument on the defendants' motions were heard.

The penitentiary inmate charged the governor with signing an illegal extradition paper, and Stutz with using the paper to bring Howell back to Nebraska for trial. Howell is serving a 10-year sentence for escaping from jail while awaiting trial on a burglary charge.

Marine Enlistment Rules Are Relaxed

Former marines who held the rank of sergeant and below may now enlist in the Marine corps reserve and retain the rank they held at discharge, according to S/Sgt. Bill Crawford of the Marine recruiting office here.

Married men with dependents as well as single men will be accepted, Crawford said. The Marine corps is making every effort to reach full authorized strength as rapidly as possible.

Marines now in the reserve who have not received orders to active duty are not eligible for enlistment in this category, Crawford said. Requirements for enlistment are previous active duty either in the regulars or reserves.

Farm Women's Exchange

Edited by CLARA BELL GRAVES.

For months we have been trying to make vegetarians of our appetites. Then came out a magazine article which said that we could easily remove excess fat as some of the movie stars are doing by a diet of meat, eggs and other proteins and cutting down on carbohydrates. Perhaps too many of us sit too often at soda counters sipping chocolate sodas or eating pineapple sundaes. But they are most "awfully good."

The reason for the attack on meats is that meat prices have burned a hole in our pocket. When we buy meat these days, we have no money to buy anything else.

On my desk is a magazine which says: "We can survive without fats or carbohydrates but not without proteins, which are indispensable for growth and constant replacement of worn-out tissue."

"The proteins that we eat are broken down chemically in the digestive system into many different amino acids. These, in turn, combine to form the tissue-building proteins. Doctors, today, feed patients in need of tissue rebuilding predigested proteins, the amino acids."

Balanced Diet.

So, let us not be rash by rejecting our theories of a balanced diet nor our practice of a balanced meal. Each food has its place. One magazine puts it this way, that backward children pep up when they get sufficient proteins. From experience, I know this to be true. When a little Graves refused meat because she did not like it and persisted in her aversion, one day a Sunshine teacher wrote us a note which read something like this: "Either a balanced diet or the Sunshine school." Of course the little one chose the balanced diet.

Christmas Trees.

Make your own Christmas trees, with little balls of all colors. They are hung on a pipe-stem tree and, when the light falls on the colors of the transparent balls, they reflect it beautifully. The instructions are 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent, stamped, addressed envelope.

Mince-meat Cup Cakes.

These sound good. And they make a little fruit cake all their own. Ice them and stick a candle in the top and there you are, ready for either a children's party or a tray luncheon for your Christmas party. For the party, serve scalloped oysters and cranberries. Also hot coffee or tea.

Let's make the cookies or "cakes" as we would call them. Sift together one and two-thirds cups sifted flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons double-acting baking powder. Cream one-third cup shortening with two-thirds cup granulated sugar and beat until light. Mix in one whole egg and beat hard until lighter still. Add one-half cup of mince-meat. Add the dry ingredients alternately with one-third cup milk. Fill greased muffin tins or baking cups one-half full and bake in a pre-heated oven at 375 degrees for 20 minutes or until done. Makes one dozen cakes.

Talk Cranberries.

Perhaps someday we will talk turkey but today it's cranberries. There are several ways to serve cranberries which are full of nutritive iron and should be served often with family and company meals.

Cranberry molds are easiest. Raw cranberries, using one cup, one whole orange, one whole apple and a cup and a half sugar make a delightful salad or relish. Grind all fruits, with peelings on and mix with sugar. Then chill in eight hours you have a pretty red and yellow color scheme. Or you may cook the cranberries, using one-half as much sugar as berries and one-half as much water as sugar. Serve hot or cold.

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Pearl Brown, 53, 7132 Stanton, was injured slightly Friday morning when she slipped and fell at the northeast corner of the Eleventh and O street intersection.

Mrs. Brown, who received a torn ligament in the hip and a sprained ankle was treated at St. Elizabeth hospital and released.

ROBERT C. TOWNSEND

Townsend Clubs' Founder's Son Hastings Speaker

Nebraska's Townsends will meet in Hastings on Saturday and Sunday for a two-day state convention in which will be celebrated the victory of three out of four of their endorsed candidates in the recent congressional election, according to announcement from Mrs. Rhena Addis, Lincoln, Townsend club organizer for Nebraska and Iowa.

Robert C. Townsend, treasurer of the Townsend Plan, with headquarters in Cleveland, O., will be principal speaker at the Hastings sessions. Townsend, who is a son of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the now 17-year-old pension movement, is returning to Ohio from a five-week speaking tour in California and other western states.

The Townsends' slate in the recent election recommended Reps. Carl T. Curtis, Karl Stefan, A. L. Miller and Eugene D. O'Sullivan. Only O'Sullivan failed to retain his seat in congress.

Film Is Shown—Carl Bruechert was Cosmo of the day at the Cosmopolitan club meeting Friday noon at the Cornhusker. Bruechert presented a film to about 40 members. He was introduced by Wendell Graham.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

© 1950 by John F. Dille Co.

Although all of us live in a vast, odorless, tasteless, invisible expanse of nitrogen and oxygen, we usually take this benign and pleasant atmosphere for granted—unless we are being choked.

Most of us accept the rest of our surroundings in just as unconscious a manner as the good air we breathe. We get used to the same room, house, street, office, pastimes, and people—so much so that we scarcely notice them.

Dangerous Attitude.

By so doing, you miss some of the most exciting, thrilling and exhilarating events of a lifetime. You suffer a suffocation that is not as sudden, but just as insidious as when oxygen is exhausted from the air you breathe. Although your source of new ideas is cut off, you won't even know it!

Are you bored often? Are you tired without physical cause? Do you wonder what to do with your spare time? Do you think your looks are fading? Do you feel lackadaisical?

If so, sure as anything there is, you are suffering from ennui, which simply means you are letting life pass you by without being aware of it. That's the disease of spirit that detracts from your physical and mental attractiveness as an eclipse blights the moon.

The remedy is easy and fast-acting, and it's yours for the taking. Tomorrow, when you awaken, really open your eyes. Take a good look around you. You'll see a lot of things you may not have seen for many a day: the sunlight on the curtains, perchance a smudge on the door. You may be delighted or irked, but you won't be bored!

A New Look.

Hold on to this alert awareness. Consciously maintain a receptive attitude all day. If you succeed, you'll find yourself stimulated by the duties you thought wearisome and the friends you thought tedious. Every duty, act, and person offers you challenges and interests you have been rebuffing. It's impossible to be tired or lackadaisical if you give them the attention they deserve.

And what was that about fading looks? Look again! Your eyes will be alive, reflecting your new interest in what you see. Your lips will smile with amusement, sympathy, and understanding of the world around you. That's what makes any woman naturally good looking!

F. S. from J. R. F. A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career—every girl or woman in business who is eager to reach top-flight success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job... reveals secrets on how to hold your job. See how

Good Samaritans

DES MOINES — (AP) — Ernie Huettner hopes his luck has changed. Huettner farms a place near Calamus. First it was sickness which laid him up for about a year and a half. Then last spring fire destroyed farm buildings and damaged his residence and most of his machinery.

But things are looking up. A new barn has been completed with the help of neighbors who are also assisting in the construction of a hog house. Huettner estimated his neighbors' help had saved him about $2,000 in labor.

Late Afternoon Ceremony For Susan Kimball, William Cartmell

With only the members of the families attending the service, the marriage of Miss Susan Marie Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lower Kimball, to William Hammond Cartmell, son of Colonel and Mrs. Bernard C. Cartmell of Winter Park, Fla., was solemnized on Friday afternoon, November 24, at the home of the bride's parents.

The 4 o'clock ceremony took place at one end of the long living room where the French doors were draped with gold-flecked wool net in the buff tone. On either side of the drape were lighted cathedral candles in wrought-iron candelabra, which had as a background wall niches filled with spreading arrangements of chrysanthemums in shades of gold and deep bronze. The service was read by Dr. Frank Court, minister of St. Paul Methodist church, in an improvised chancel enclosed with white satin cording and ornamented with two wrought-iron pedestals filled with gold-toned chrysanthemums. The chancel appointments were completed with a white satin prie-dieu which had been used at the wedding of the bride's mother, and also at the wedding of her aunt, the late Mrs. Charles Stuart.

Paul LeBar, organist, played the wedding music and, as the guests assembled presented a prelude which included "Clair de Lune," Debussy; "Because," D'Hardelot; "I Love Thee," Grieg, and a medley of Pi Beta Phi and Delta Tau Delta sweetheart songs.

Mrs. Donald Lentz of Deshler, the former Marilyn Brewster, was the matron of honor and appeared in a lace frock in the dark amber shade. The sleeveless bodice, with its low, rounded neckline bound with matching velvet, narrowed to a slender waist contoured with a wide belt of velvet. The very full skirt was ballerina length. Mrs. Lentz wore matching shoes, and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of feathered yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. William Talbot Kimball, the bridesmatron, wore a frock of periwinkle blue lace fashioned on identical lines to that worn by the matron of honor. She also carried a heart-shaped bouquet of the feathered chrysanthemums in the gold shade. The junior bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Marie Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart, and Miss Dee Marie Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. A. R. L. S. T. Stuart, wore alike frocks of dark amber velvet. The fitted bodices had off-shoulder necklines defined with velvet ruffles, and the skirts were short with accentuated fullness. They carried small heart-shaped bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Nancy Ward, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Emerson Ward of Rochester, Minn., and Miss Jessie Steiner, and Miss Anne Barger, wearing frocks of the amber tone, and periwinkle. Ringbearer was Scott Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart.

MRS. WILLIAM HAMMOND CARTMELL

Bernard C. Cartmell, jr., of Detroit, served his brother as best man, and the guests were shown their places by William T. Kimball, brother of the bride.

For her wedding the bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white satin and silk Chantilly lace. The molded bodice was overlaid with Chantilly lace and a minute edging of the lace contoured the chevron neckline which was filled in with an illusion yoke. The close fitting lace sleeves were completely with deep points over the hands. The lace was repeated in an applique motif on the full, satin skirt that swept into a long train. Her veil of silk illusion was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a Juliet cap of pearls, with the pearls repeated in a sunburst trim, which had held in place her mother's wedding veil. Her heart-shaped bouquet was fashioned of feathered white chrysanthemums and stephanotis, and her only ornament was a strand of real pearls.

At the reception for the wedding guests, which immediately followed the ceremony, the refreshment table was covered with an imported lace cloth, and centered with a modern arrangement of white camellias and stephanotis. The three-tiered wedding cake, encircled with boxwood and stephanotis, centered the buffet, and on either side were tall white tapers in silver candelabra. Mrs. John E. Wagener was in charge of the guest book.

After a honeymoon trip to Texas and New Orleans, Mr. Cartmell and his bride will reside at 1317 South Nineteenth street. For traveling Mrs. Cartmell is wearing a gold and brown tweed suit with brown velvet trim, a brown velvet cloche and gold wool topper.

Mrs. Cartmell attended Scripps college, Claremont, Cal., and the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and of Omicron, of which she served president. Mr. Cartmell attended Pacific Military academy in Los Angeles, and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity of which he served as president.

Lorraine Frances Maahs Bride Of Paul J. Versch, Jr.

Fan-shaped arrangements of white chrysanthemums filled the gold altar vases, and lighted white cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra appointed the chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral for the marriage of Miss Lorraine Frances Maahs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Maahs, to Paul J. Versch, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Versch of Atwood, Kans., which was solemnized at 1 o'clock, Thanksgiving day, November 23. Clusters of white chrysanthemums and greenery tied with bows of white satin marked the pews of the processional aisle, and the lines of the service were read by the Rev. A. Piorkowski, pastor of St. James parish, Cortland.

As the one hundred fifty guests assembled, Louis Demma sang Gounod's "Ave Marie," and "Panis Angelicus," accompanied by the church organist, who also played the wedding music.

The matron of honor and her sister's only attendant was Mrs. Andre S. Leche of Dallas, Tex., who wore an ankle-length frock of satin in the toast shade. Cap sleeves designed the fitted bodice, and the sheath skirt was veiled by a layered overskirt of net in matching tone. Sequins and gold beading trimmed her crownless brim of toast satin, and she carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and chose for her wedding a gown of white, pleated-brocade satin. A high, turned-down collar and small, satin-covered buttons accented the molded bodice which was completed with fitted, bracelet-length sleeves, and the full-gathered skirt tapered into a slight train. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon illusion was held by a brim of white satin ornamented with seed pearls and crystal beading, and she wore brief mitts of nylon net. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of calla lilies, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of her godfather, A. V. Zimmer of Ingleswood, Cal.

Maurice V. Costello, jr., of Omaha, served Mr. Versch as best man, and the ushers were Andre S. Leche of Dallas, Tex., and Joseph Young.

Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon for the members of the families and bridal party was held at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting at the affair were Miss Nancy Eastman and Miss Margaret Watkins. Tall white tapers and a three-tiered wedding cake wreathed with white chrysanthemums appointed the bridal table.

Mr. and Mrs. Versch left for a wedding trip through southern states. For traveling, the bride wore a wool frock in the grey tone with matching grey wool topper, black velvet accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

Mrs. Versch is a former student of the University of Nebraska and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska college of architectural engineering.

Pre-Election

Survey Hits

Within 1 Pct.

By GEORGE GALLUP

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J.—The pre-election survey of the 1950 Congressional election proved the most accurate one in national elections in the Institute's 15-year history.

Election returns available to date indicate that the survey was accurate within 1 percentage point.

With complete returns from all

Congressional districts the error may possibly be cut to an even smaller margin.

The Institute confined itself to races for the House of Representatives, since they form the only measure of national political sentiment in off-year voting.

Here are the findings as published Nov. 6 and the election tabulations gathered to date from a sizable number of representative

Congressional districts across the nation.

mate to date for the House races

only is 50 per cent.

Eighth Covered.

The November election was the eighth national election covered since the Institute was organized in 1935. Of these eight,

Institute survey figures correctly indicated the winning party in all but the 1948 race.

In a period of 15 years, 245 pre-election surveys have been made on political races for city, state and national elections with an average error of 4 percentage points.

On the basis of its survey figures this year the Institute in its final report said that the democrats would retain control of the House, which they did, but that the republicans would make

"moderate" seat gains. This proved correct.

The G.O.P. gained 28 seats over the 1948 election whereas a gain of 47 seats were required to capture control.

New Techniques Used.

As a result of experience gained in 1948, the Institute tried four innovations in the 1950 election.

In 1948 most of the polling had ceased 12 days or more before election. This year a large group of interviewers was kept busy questioning voters up to within three days of the election, in or-

No Pedestrian

Fatality In City

In 12 Months

Lincoln marked up another achievement on Thanksgiving day by going a full year without a pedestrian traffic fatality.

The last such fatality occurred on Nov. 23, 1949, when a fire engine and auto collided at Thirty-third and O streets and both vehicles careened to a sidewalk fatally injuring a pedestrian.

However, the record in this department dates back to a period from February, 1941 to April, 1942, when the city went 422 days without a pedestrian fatality.

A check of records of the past two years shows improvement in the city's pedestrian safety. In 1948 pedestrians accounted for four of the six fatalities, but in 1949

were involved in only two of the four deaths.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

TV Travels 200 Miles

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(AP)—Down here in the Ozark hills, 150 miles from the nearest television station, television programs are coming in strong, despite the accepted rule that a telecast may be seen normally in a radius of only 50 to 60 miles.

Pilgrim Geese

DES MOINES (AP)—A flock of blue-blooded geese—their ancestors came over on the Mayflower—is owned by Louis Bretz of Elberon. The birds are called "Pilgrims" after the people who brought them to this country in 1620. They are smaller than the Emden and Toulouse breeds later imported from France and Germany. The Pilgrim breed became nearly extinct until an eastern goose fancier started breeding them.

Says Slavs Prepared
To Keep Independence
If Any Attack Comes

By ALEX SINGLETON.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—If attack comes to Yugoslavia, Premier Marshal Tito says "our people would know how to defend themselves and would give up their independence only at a dear price."

Firmly, he told the Associated Press in a Thanksgiving day interview that Russia and her communist satellites could not conquer Yugoslavia "except over our dead bodies."

Dressed in a dapper grey flannel suit and chain smoking, the premier expressed his appreciation of American aid to his drouth-stricken country. He said he hoped more would arrive soon.

Tito showed no signs of personal disturbance over the possibility of an imminent assault by the Soviet bloc, with which his regime broke more than two years ago when he charted a policy independent of Moscow.

But, he added, if the communist threat to his nation's independence should intensify, "we will buy arms" from the west.

And it "is understood" that Yugoslavia would invite United Nations intervention in case of a communist attack, the premier added.

Yugoslavia today announced that the United States had agreed to send additional food to the country—reportedly as much as $50,000,000 worth for the Yugoslav army.

This additional relief, informed sources said, was destined for army consumption. Civilian food shipments already are coming into the country.

Stocks Climb Still Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed today with heavy selling today to establish a new 20-year high.

Final prices were up a few cents to around 1 1/2 a share.

Largest gains were scored during an opening burst of demand. Progress after that was frequently labored and a good many issues closed under the day's best marks.

Trading was brisk and volume piled up at the high mark of 2,600,000 shares for the entire session.

Easily the leader of the advance was P. Goodrich, which was $5.62 a share higher than the close.

Sidney Gets Ohio District Headquarters

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—The Ohio Oil company today announced establishment of a new district office with headquarters at Sidney. The office will be under jurisdiction of the Casper, Wyo., division of the company.

The Sidney district will embrace all of Ohio's activities in northeastern Colorado, South Dakota and all of Nebraska except the extreme southeast section, which is under the Tulsa division office Dr. W. B. Emery, Ohio vice president in charge of production, said.

Stewart Manager.
E. B. Stewart, now division superintendent at Tulsa, was named manager of the Sidney district. Dr. Emery said Herman Brunt would continue here as district superintendent. Stewart is expected to take over his new duties shortly.

When the district setup is completed, Dr. Emery said it would relieve him of the detailed responsibility now handled through the Casper office. The company expects its $150,000 Sidney office to be ready for occupancy by next February or March. Meanwhile, additional office space is being rented in downtown Sidney.
